Soviet Flotilla Starts Move to Mediterranean

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—A Soviet cruiser and two escort vessels passed through the Bosphorus from the Black Sea towards the Mediterranean early today.

Several other cruisers and destroyers were scheduled to pass through the straits later in the day.

Final destination of the Soviet flotilla was not known.

Three submarines which passed through the Mediterranean this week from North Sea ports arrived in Alexandria, Egypt.

Allied observers believed the Red fleet was being sent into the Mediterranean as a diplomatic maneuver.

The Russians have shown considerable irritation over the presence in the Mediterranean of the massive U. S. 6th Fleet and the part it played in the Jordan crisis.

UN Condemns Red Action in Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A United Nations special committee reported today that last year's Hungarian revolution was a spontaneous nationwide uprising crushed by the brutal intervention of Russian troops without invitation.

It was the most sweeping indictment of Soviet Communism ever issued by the U. N.

A FIVE-MAN committee appointed last January to conduct a full and objective investigation of the revolt announced its findings in a 150,000-word report. Its conclusion was based on evidence taken from 111 witnesses, some of them still loyal to the Communist party, in hearings held here and in Vienna, London, Rome and Geneva.

Keith C. O. Shann, Australian ambassador to the Philippines, who prepared the report, said the revolution was "not an anti-Soviet revolution as such" and was not fomented by outside agencies, as, for example, Radio Free Europe.

THE THREE MAIN conclusions of the committee, comprising also

Morrison, Hass Named As Citizens Group Rebuffed

Divided by an internal conflict that climaxed the most explosive meeting of the year, the Palm Springs Board of Education last night appointed Villagers Fred Morrison and Herbert Hass as new board members.

Ratified by a majority vote of two, the appointments capped a blistering verbal duel between Member Arnold Rumwell and Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, prominent Village resident and spokesman for the Citizens Committee for Better Schools.

THE BRISKLY worded dispute, intensified by allegations of board dissension and school district morale problems, arose from a citizens' campaign proposing the board appointment of Mrs. Louisa Sanford.

Despite protests by Rumwell that "I have had no voice in these appointments," Members Haig Harris and Frank Muller swiftly filled board vacancies created by the resignations of President Raymond Sorum and Member Helen Staley.

Hass, a Palm Springs hotel manager, and Morrison, an insurance adjustment company operator, were both unsuccessful candidates in last year's School Board election.

MULLER'S MOTION for appointment of the two men drew sharp criticism from Rumwell, who declared that "Muller told me he would not vote for anyone I proposed because he didn't want me to have central control of the board."

Rumwell, whose previous motion for appointment of Dr. B. H. Pollak died for lack of a second, refused to vote on Muller's motion.

"I think Mr. Morrison is a very high class man," Rumwell stated, "and I'm happy to vote for him. I'm not saying anything against Mr. Hass, but I think he is not as well qualified as others we may choose."

MULLER, who denied his alleged statement to Rumwell, refused to divide his motion into two separate motions and the appointments passed.

The dispute between Rumwell and Muller formed a comparatively mild climax to the Rumwell-Goldberg debate triggered by presentation of petitions asking for the appointment of Mrs. Sanborn, wife of City Councilman Gerald K. Sanborn.

Tension mounting in a sweltering auditorium packed by more than 50 spectators broke into heated action with filing of the petitions, carrying 363 signatures, by Mrs. Margaret Taylor.

INTRODUCING THE petition, Mrs. Taylor read that the Citizens Committee action was based on a "serious development condition in the school district" that had caused "a loss of morale among faculty members and precipitated the resignation of Mr. Sorum and Mrs. Staley."

Rumwell rapidly replied that talks with teachers convinced him there was no "morale problem" and that the "vast majority of teachers are satisfied with the board position as it is."

Dr. Goldberg countered Rumwell's statement by reciting his own travels through the school district and claiming that his talks with faculty members indicated an ebbing of morale.

THE COMMITTEE spokesman alleged that the public had also lost faith with the school board, as was charged in the petition preamble.

Dr. Goldberg then turned to Rumwell's earlier statements alleging that Dr. Goldberg had told a board member he would take the case to the Grand Jury if he were not permitted to speak at the meeting.

Rumwell said he regarded this as an "idle threat" and declared that he would not be intimidated or let petitioners "force this thing upon my throat."

"Why don't you get the Grand Jury in," Rumwell told Dr. Goldberg.

"I might suggest it to the Citizens' Committee," Dr. Goldberg replied. "I think the public might be interested in knowing how this organization functions."

As an aftermath to last night's action, Dr. Goldberg told The Desert Sun this morning that "as a result of this meeting, we hope the citizens of the school district have a better realization of the conditions that exist in the system and the methods employed by the board."

Hungary Expels United States Air Attache

VIENNA (AP)—The Communist Hungarian government today ordered the expulsion of Col. Welwyn F. Dallam, United States air attache in Budapest, on charges he photographed Hungarian military objects.

Dallam was given six days to leave Hungary.

DALLAM TOLD the United Press by telephone that the Hungarian government handed a note containing the demand to the U. S. Legation in Budapest. He said it contained no further details.

Dallam said the Hungarian charge was "ridiculous."

He said he and his wife would leave Budapest for Vienna next Tuesday. He has been there two years.

"I CANNOT SAY much on the Hungarian charges presently," he said. "In any case, they are ridiculous."

Capt. Thomas R. Gleason, assistant U. S. military attache, was charged with "open espionage" by the Hungarian government April 9 and had to leave the country within 48 hours.

The Palm Springs Board of Education last night approved the appointment of Jack Miles, formerly of Manhattan Beach, as assistant superintendent of schools, in charge of the district business division.

The post, carrying an annual salary of $13,000, will overlap that formerly occupied by Business Manager Paul Summers, whose resignation is effective July 1, the date the new position becomes activated.

HE HAS HAD teaching experience in all grades of the Los Angeles City school system.

Two Guardsmen Killed by Bolts Of Lightning

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Two bolts of lightning in the midst of a violent electrical storm struck Wednesday in a bivouac area, killing two North Carolina National Guardsmen and wounding 47 others.

The men, members of North Carolina's 30th Infantry Division, were preparing for supper at the time of the accident. The "Old Hickory" division, some 8,000 strong, had gone to the bivouac area Monday at the beginning of their second week of active duty training.

None of the injured men is in serious condition. They were expected to be released after treatment at the Army Hospital here. Names of the men and their regiments were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

Lighting Along Highway 111 Planned by Business Group

CATHEDRAL CITY—Street lighting for a two and a half mile strip of Highway 111 between Cathedral City and Palm Springs, was inaugurated yesterday by the Cathedral City Area Business Association.

At its regular meeting at the Monte Sito cafe in Tramview, members of the association voted to investigate the establishment of a lighting district which would have lights along Highway 111 (similar to those on Indian Avenue in Palm Springs) from Araby Point to Cathedral City, through Eagle Canyon and Tramview.

The suggestion came before the regular meeting of the association after L. C. Lewis reported that the Riverside County Planning Commission had approved a lighting district for a new subdivision near the University of California at Riverside, and was permitting the installation of a new plan proposed by the California Electric Power Company.

The next meeting of the association will be held on July 5 at the Monte Sito Cafe in Tramview.

Supreme Court Asked To Reverse Girard Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government appealed directly to the Supreme Court today to reverse a court order preventing it from surrendering GI William S. Girard to Japanese authorities for a manslaughter trial.

A petition filed with the court by Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. asked the court to reverse last Tuesday's decision by Federal Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy.

McGARRAGHY RULED that a Japanese trial for Girard would violate his constitutional rights. The government petition said McGarraghy's decision is "clearly wrong" and "public interest in an early disposition of this case" is very great.

Brownell asked the court to accept the case for review, and urged that it schedule oral argument "if deemed necessary, at an early date convenient to the court."

THE COURT NOW is scheduled to adjourn for the summer recess next Monday. However, it could extend the term for any period it chooses.

Brownell's petition said:

"We firmly believe that, despite the district court's ruling, Girard's case is totally without merit and that the court can so decide promptly."

It added that the government is prepared to file a brief on the merits of the case "if that is deemed desirable," within the next few days.

Girard's attorneys, it said, probably can prepare a brief quickly from those they submitted to McGarraghy.

Senate Heads For Showdown On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today headed for a showdown on the opening battle over the civil rights bill.

Supporters said publicly and southern opponents conceded privately that the House-passed bill would result in keeping the bill out of the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee where a similar bill has been bottled up for months.

First Step In Overall Plan Given

Stassen Offers Reduction to Five-Power Meet

LONDON (AP)—The United States proposed today that the U. S. and Soviet armed forces be cut to 2,500,000 men each. It said the reductions should be made "without any political preconditions" as part of a first step disarmament plan.

U. S. delegate Harold E. Stassen made the proposal at today's session of the five-power London Disarmament Conference, sources disclosed.

THE CUT, TO be carried out within one year of the signing of a disarmament treaty, would be part of an overall agreement including the future of nuclear tests. Stassen also told the conference the U. S. was prepared to consider further substantial armed force reductions in order to meet Russia halfway.

He indicated the U. S. would consider the cutting of forces to a figure substantially lower than the proposed 2,500,000 level, depending on the solution of political problems.

CONFERENCE SOURCES said that while the U. S. offer of a 2,500,000 man reduction was made without any prior political conditions, further cuts below this level would depend upon the progressive settlement of outstanding East-West political issues.

Stassen pointed out that these envisioned further reductions would also form part of a first step disarmament agreement.

The long awaited American proposal touched off a general discussion in which Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Canada's David Johnson took part.

Cherry Valley Out of Danger, Blazes Continue

Brush fires swept through dry brushlands near Beaumont and Lake Mathews today, threatening a small community of 500 persons and forcing evacuation of homes and ranches.

Firefighters watched for signs of rising winds as they fought a 700-acre blaze near the small town of Cherry Valley in the Calumesa area between Redlands and Beaumont.

The blaze was stopped just short of the community Wednesday night by men who "made a stand right on the main street," and today forestry officials said the town was in no danger.

Begole Changes Jobs on Orders Of Supervisors

County Administrative Officer Clay Begole was "discharged" by the Board of Supervisors yesterday—but he was immediately rehired as county property management superintendent.

Begole's dismissal was voted in an unheralded action taken by three of four supervisors attending yesterday's board budget meeting. His termination takes effect June 30 while his appointment to the newly created position of property management superintendent becomes effective July 1.

Supervisors said the action was designed to divide the duties of administrative officer and county purchasing agent. Begole has also been serving in the latter capacity. It was explained that the board felt the need for specialization and greater experience for the post of administrative officer.

Cigaret Prices Upped One Cent

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans will pay a cent a pack more for non-filter tip cigarettes.

Five major tobacco companies raised wholesale prices 35 cents a thousand Monday, which works out to around one cent a pack at retail. The increase probably will be passed along to consumers.

The increase, announced by American Tobacco Co., R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Liggett & Myers, P. Lorillard & Co., and Philip Morris, do not affect filter tip brands made by these firms.

First Family Get-Together Set Monday

THOUSAND PALMS—The first "family" get-together of the summer season, sponsored by the Thousand Palms School Community Club, is to be held on Monday, June 24, at 6:30 p.m. It will be in the form of a picnic, with a swim-for-all allowed before supper and other fun following the meal, and is to be held at the Shangri-La Palms Swimming Pool in Thousand Palms.

All families — with or without children — in the entire Thousand Palms area are invited to attend, and in this way to begin getting acquainted with their neighbors.

For this first event, each family is requested to bring a picnic meal for its own needs, which may be spread at supper-time if so desired. Also, any folding chairs brought along would be appreciated.

Plans for this event were formulated at the meeting of the Thousand Palms School-Community Club, with Mrs. Charles H. Wallace, president in charge. It is under consideration to hold a "family" social once each month during the summer months.

New City Hall Landscaping Plan To Be Ready Soon

City Manager R. W. Peterson reported today that within a very short time the council will receive the plans and specifications for the landscaping design for the city hall site.

The Raven Lumber Company of Idaho, which contracted for the removal of the old buildings from the site, is expected to have the buildings removed by July 6.

Originally, there were nine buildings to be removed from the city hall site, and five of these have been destroyed because they were worthless. The balance of the buildings will be moved, possibly to sites in the south Coachella Valley area, where they will be used for office buildings and workers quarters on large ranches and farms.

When the plans and specifications are presented to the council for approval, and if they are approved, the administration will be authorized to advertise for bids.

At 2:15 p.m., the board will hear a request by the Retail Merchants Association for board discussion regarding paper signs.

End of School Signals Start of Camping Season

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time of year the children head for the hills and the weepy parents for the handkerchiefs.

The end of school signals the beginning of the camping season, and by the July Fourth holiday, an estimated 5 million youngsters from 6 to 16 will be overrunning 14,000 camps of all sizes and descriptions, both private and public.

It will take 250,000 staff personnel to direct all this youthful energy into the proper channels. This statistical look at the camping picture comes from Maxwell Alexander, a practicing attorney, former camp owner, and executive director of The Association of Private Camps, Inc.

Alexander, who has been in camp work for 30 years, said it is only natural for a parent to shed a few tears when Johnny heads for camp. "But sometimes," he added, "you'd think it was a permanent parting."

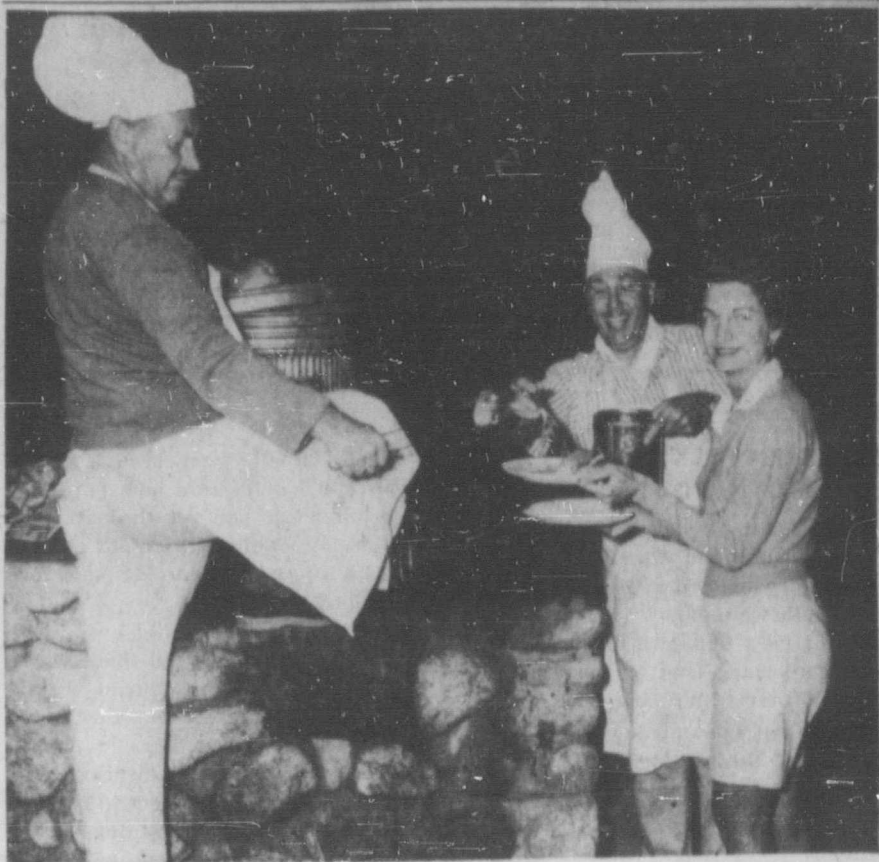

Alexander believes the camping benefits parents almost as much as the children. It gives each a vacation from the other, he said. The parents have a chance to "re-evaluate," the child a chance to "develop security, to quit treating the parent as a crutch."

"Most children are happy at camp," said Alexander. "That's why parents often are startled when on their first visit they find the child so busy with activities he has little time for them."

He conceded that some children do not "take" to camping—especially to the long two-month period with only a couple of parental visits. He suggested in such cases the parent let the child try camping by stages—stay three weeks one summer, four the next.

"To the mother worried about placing her child in the hands of 'strangers' for the summer, I would say they are not strangers. They are substitute parents. Seventy per cent of all camp personnel today is recruited from the ranks of college students, teachers, and principals. And all camps are under regulation by state health and labor departments."

SOUTHERN FOLK LORE IS DYING OUT

The South needs a Harry Oliver. Yarn-spinning and the telling of tall tales for which rural communities of the South were famous a few decades ago is almost unknown today. There is no record being kept for posterity like Harry's Desert Rat Scrapbook.

These tall tales are no longer heard because of the passing of the old-time country store. Anyone who knew the South of the early days will recall that the country store was the gathering place for home folk in all the country around. Particularly on rainy days and Saturdays, friends and neighbors gathered there to swap tales and practice the art of homespun story telling.

There are still a few old timers around who will occasionally reminisce on the days of long ago. John Parris, a Southern columnist who roams the mountains of North and South Carolina, recently picked up some yarns from the old mountain folk which let us into the secret of what they used to talk about.

Gum Dalton told him about a justice trial he had attended. It seems one feller had his neighbor arrested for keeping a vicious dog. He said the dog had bitten him. The neighbor denied the allegation most positively. "My dog," he said, "did not bite you."

"Guess I know when I'm dog bit," said the complainant, "and your dog done it."

"What sort of a dog is my dog?" asked the defendant.

"Why, your dog is a yellow dog."

"I know my dog didn't bite you," said the defendant. "In the first place, my dog ain't no yellow dog. In the second place, my dog ain't got no teeth, and in the third place I ain't got no durn dog in the first place."

GUILTY—With Some Doubt

Snipe McCloud told the reporter about being a witness in a justice trial where a feller was being tried for cursing his brother-in-law. Jim McIntyre was the judge. When all the evidence was in, one of the lawyers rose to speak.

McIntyre was a farmer and it was the busy season of the year for him so he interrupted the young lawyer with this comment:

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Beyond Eisenhower

HARTFORD, Conn. —President Eisenhower's "upset stomach" hit the American public significantly different than his two previous illnesses did. The general reaction has to be judged by each reporter on his own.

I happened to see a lot of people because shortly after Ike's attack I was travelling by easy stages from Washington to Cambridge, Mass., to attend the Harvard Commencement. For a couple of days I moved around by plane, train, taxi and bus through Long Island, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. People's reactions seemed to run something like this:

SINCE the President's illness was a repeat performance, it did not have the impact of surprise. Twice before he had recovered. This time he might recover, or might not, and whatever happened, people were ready to face it without panic. To the President's credit, a great deal of the public's calmness was due to his own brave and casual attitude toward death.

As recently as the press conference just before his leaving for Florida for the Navy inspection, Mr. Eisenhower had prefaced one of his remarks by saying, "If I stay alive for the next three and a half years."

Not long before he left for the San Francisco Convention last August, the President responded to somebody's question about his life expectancy by saying, "A man can't choose the time or the manner of his going." He went on from there to say, in effect, that if the people wanted him, he was willing to die in the harness of a second term. Thus the country has been subtly prepared by the President for his possible death in office.

BUT IT STRUCK me that the 1957 illness different from the 1955 heart attack and the 1956 ileitis for additional reasons. I can't help feeling that the frantic excitement of the 1955-56 was a political spasm. Republicans who knew Ike well, or knew him hardly at all, regarded him as the peerless candidate. He was so certain to be the GOP standard-bearer — and a winner — that party members were thrown into a confusion that did not detract — but must be distinguished — from the personal sorrow over Mr. Eisenhower's loss of health.

Democrats, although from an opposite viewpoint, regarded Ike last year as the invincible candidate. Adlai Stevenson, Averell Harriman and G. Mennen Williams had been talking big up until Ike's heart attack, but they had been talking through their collective hats. But when the President came down with his cardiac attack, and again when he underwent surgery, the Democrats' delight was ill-concealed and their confidence swelled like a river in a flood.

MOST AMERICANS are only election-year politicians, but they reacted politically in 1955-56 to Ike's illnesses. They did so, in retrospect, because Ike had become something of a political phenomenon. He was the first Republican in 20 years to beat a Democrat for the nation's top office.

"When you fellers get through speaking — and I don't care how long you take—but when you get through, you will find my verdict written out on this book. I am just obliged to set out a few tater slips."

When the attorneys had finished their arguments they read the verdict: "Guilty—with some little doubt whether he's lying or not."

Old Time Religion

Uncle Jack told about meetings and getting religion. "Don't seem to me like folks get religion like they did when I was a boy," he said. "They don't get it half as hard as they used to nor feel half as glad as when they get it. I don't claim that all of them held out. I am thinking now of old Professor Miller who done a mighty lot of backslidin'. He made perfection every summer for 17 years and joined every church in the neighborhood from the foot-washing Baptist to the dry-dancin' Methodists."

At that point old Boney Ridley broke in with the comment that he often thought of the old time preachers and their sermons on hell and damnation. He said the preachers were enough to make a feller glad he'd perished.

"I used to go and hear Brother Tassmore make a few heartbroken remarks for two or three hours at a time and close by calling on Brother McGruder to pray, who never left out nothin' in the world."

"He prayed for all the officers in America, and all the crowned heads of Europe, then for sunshine and rain, health and happiness, life and love till all them who was kneeling would go to sleep, and them asittin would throw paper wads at each other or get up and go to the spring."

Old Fashioned Remedy

Then there is the yarn about the neighbor woman who came running to her house with a ten month old baby in her arms and asked an old neighbor, "What am I going to do? I am afraid it will kill him. The baby swallowed a button. What can I do for him?"

The great grandmother, who for sixty years was known for her original and witty remarks, told the distraught neighbor:

"He'll be all right and no harm will be done if you'll get him to swallow a buttonhole."

All Shook Up

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

So now we end
The season Vernal.
And come to one
Could be infernal.

Of course, I am only taking advantage of a bit of poetic license. Here in Palm Springs we note the change in seasons just as a day on the calendar.

THERE ARE ONLY two seasons in Palm Springs—good and better.

Anyway, the above remarks are occasioned by the fact that my ready reference book, the World's Almanac, sets forth in fine print that tomorrow, June 21, is the first day of summer. In fact, with the aid of a magnifying glass and Mr. Donald Klotzbeueher who read it with a nude eye, summer arrives at 11:21 EST tomorrow. Which, by simple arithmetic, turns out to be 9:21 a. m., PDT. That "D" refers to Daylight, not an expletive.

Anyway, it was a wonderful spring.

THIS WAVE OF prowlers, attacks by depraved, undoubtedly mentally ill, characters which is now filling the metropolitan newspapers, gives rise to a thought.

Many people do not like to keep guns around the house. Dangerous and you might pick an innocent person. Besides, you need a permit.

But it seems to me that an innocent little water pistol such as can be purchased at any kids' toy store, and loaded with household ammonia, could be a swift and effective method of discouraging a would-be attacker.

THE RANGE would be sufficient to deter the prowler. And if it was an innocent person whose intentions were honorable you would be able to apologize after he finished coughing and choking and be able to see again. Wouldn't be as lethal as a gun and besides anybody who comes in without knocking shouldn't complain if splattered in the Adam's Apple with a bit of Aqua Ammonia.

Could even fill it with Scotch. The guy might be a Bourbon addict and allergic to smoke.

WAS INTERESTED in that article in The Desert Sun about light industry for the desert area. Travelling through Orange County practically twice weekly between here and the beach, note many branch factories of big name companies, settled in what used to be orange groves. All neatly landscaped and not a smoke stack anywhere. In fact, there are so many of them, all with a neat payroll, that I thought for a while there wouldn't be an orange tree left in Orange County.

But there are hundreds of little orange trees growing to adulthood in Santa Ana canyon to take care of that.

IF THEY COULD grab off some of these industries for the desert area it would aid in the district's economy and pose no threat of smog. No smelly cement mills or sulphurous steel plants, just neat electrically-operated plants.

Go along well with dates, grapes and grapefruit.

INEZ ROBB:

New Jersey Keeps Pace

There are days when it appears that nothing in the world is being done to lick mankind's most pressing problems. The universe is full of yea-yak-yak about disarmament, inflation, crab grass, delinquency and the threat of moss in Ebbets Field and the Polo Grounds.

We inch along to our doom, or so it seems. And then, without warning an item appears in print that shows someone is on the ball and all is not lost. Such a nugget is contained in the announcement that the great commonwealth of New Jersey has upped the limit on what determines petty larceny from a beggarly $50 to a more respectable $200.

Here, at least, is one state determined to keep pace with the times and with inflation. In a nation whose combined public and private debt rose to the Himalayan height of $684 billion in 1956 and is heading even higher in 1957, there is something repugnant about a petty larceny rap pegged at $50.

In fact, it is hard to imagine a self-respecting yegg, even a beginner, who would so far demean himself as to heist $50, which is no more than supermarket money on Friday night.

Justice should always be tempered with mercy, and in the above instance, New Jersey has added a soupcon of common sense. In 1957, when economists expect the purchasing value of the dollar in pre-World War II terms to dip below 50 cents, it is neither just nor merciful to judge a hard-working mugger, hamstrung by inflation and the high cost of living, by Coolidge standards.

The last time I looked, the dollar, compared with a 1935-'39 base of 100 cents to a cartwheel, was worth 50.12½ cents, or just barely above the half-way mark.

It is obviously unfair to sentence a mugger on the base worth of the dollar in 1935-'39 for a bungled job in 1957. It is no less than barbaric, verging on cruel and unusual punishment, to compute a 1957 sentence on the long-gone value of Calvin's coin.

What New Jersey has accomplished in upping the take-home pay for petty larceny is to redress the balance and make the punishment fit the crime. Never was it more true than today that "he who steals my purse steals trash." It would be a pity to see a man branded as a felon for life on a chicken-feed snatch.

New Jersey has taken a step in the right direction in modernizing its legal code and opening the vistas of fuller and more gracious living to the footpad. The only question is: Has New Jersey been sufficiently generous? Is a ceiling of $200, in view of the swan-diving dollar, really adequate and in keeping with the training and risks involved in such as the purse-snatch racket?

We must always keep in mind that the underworld is not unionized. As the cost of living index creeps ever upward, no cost-of-living increase shows regularly in the "petty larcenist's" pay envelope, unless he is put to the trouble of stealing a handful.

Does $200 offer enough incentive to attract young blood and get embryo muggers out of the pool halls and away from detective comics long enough to do what, after all, can only be a small job to lads day-dreaming of Brinks?

Maybe in these inflated times petty crime doesn't pay enough.

NEW YORK—Bitterness is blazing in the Steve Allen camp since Ed Sullivan referred to Steve and his manager, Jules Gr en, as "two punks"—and Green especially is perspiring overtime booking Big Names to hurl against Sullivan.

"We just sewed up Pat Boone for June 23—we're going to use Gen. Sarnoff's private plane to fly him in!" Green announced triumphantly.

Pat'll be in Lexington, Ky., working on a film Friday afternoon June 21—he flies to Denver for the premiere of "Bernadine" that night—flies back to Lexington to emote Saturday—flies to New York overnight to sing two songs on Steve's show Sunday night—then flies back to Lexington in Sarnoff's private plane to return to work Monday morning.

"We're gonna take him," vows Green—meaning Ed.

"Oh yeah?" says Ed. "That's our ninth anniversary show and we have Burt Lancaster, Gene Kelly, Julie Wilson, the Aquabelles, Cypress Gardens Water Skiers, Showboat and Ziegfeld Follies Girls—all from Jones Beach!"

What a war we're getting into!

One of the funniest world premieres I ever got trampled on at was Marilyn Monroe's of "The Prince and the Showgirl" which Ava Gardner did not attend inasmuch as she never got there due to something.

"Oh, Ava's here—she's just riding around the block with her friend, Walter Chiari, and with the Milton Greenes," a bigwig announced outside the Music Hall at around 9 P.M.

"She can't go in now—only squares go in this early," it was glibly explained.

Panting, perspiring photos waited. Ava's limmy arrived in about a half an hour. Out got the Milton Greenes and two dear friends from Connecticut. Ava and her Italian boy friend had never been inside the car.

"Mamie Van Doren decided not to go. She's just in from Hollywood and hasn't enough clothes to

"That never stopped her before!" several gents protested.

Bernard Baruch was there with his ear trumpet turned up. Playwright Arthur Miller's father met Comedian Joey Adams in the lobby and told him how much he liked Joey's writing in his book, "Cindy and I."

Marilyn looked beautiful. "There's a wonderful pair of girls!" Jack Carter said.

My B.W. and son Slugger loved the picture, and the B.W. liked the way Arthur Miller looked at Marilyn and kissed her (on the dance floor) at the champagne party afterward. Me, I didn't get to see it. I got caught in the mob scene when Marilyn arrived.

Poor Marilyn. I thought those fools were going to tear all her clothes right off of her. But they didn't—gosh darn it.

Hollywood Isn't Hurt?

HOLLYWOOD — All those whistlers-in-the-dark who've been claiming Hollywood hasn't been hurt by television are whistling another tune. One of the major studios had to rush to the bank for an emergency loan last week — $3,000,000 — in order to meet a couple of payrolls.

Gag-around-town: that Roberto Rossellini is heading home from India with enough plot material for a new movie... Striptease Tempest Storm is studying singing and will scam the striptease sphere. That's the way the false flattens... The King Brothers, who last produced "The Brave One," petitioned the State Department for a clearance to shoot their next picture in Russia... Eloquence, says Jerry Lewis, is—what you think you have after five martinis.

DESPITE ALL the reconciliation talk, Marie McDonald and Harry Karl are meeting to discuss the future of their three children — and that's all... Speaking of reconciliation, Manuel Rojas is willing but Martha Vickers ain't.

Arlene got herself a paper Dahl tieup with a publishing company that should tie up a few thousand bucks for the doll... Paramount put Peggy Connelly, Frank Sinatra's one-time heart, under a term contract. The gal's been buckling down and learning her acting ABCs.

I just received a review copy of Jean-Jacques Pauvert's new book, "The History of Eroticism in the Movies." The standout features of the book (and I mean STANDOUT!) are two stills of Sophia Loren and Anna Magnani from two of the pictures they made in Italy. Both gals are nude... A calico cat named Glorious found a new home with Barbara Nichols. Glorious's last name is Technicolor.

FRED MacMURRAY leased the oil-rich ground under his home in Beverly Hills to Nordom Oil Co... The "B Winkler" who wrote Cary Grant's next picture, "House Boat," is really Betsy Drake. Cary's ever-lovin'... Don McGuire's description of the three-D doll (dense, dopey and dumb) played in "Hear Me Good" by Merry Anders: "She's built like the money and she's not bright, in fact hardly."

Prediction: Anthony Franciosa, Shelly Winters' spouse, will be one of the hottest stars in town after "Hatful of Rain" and "Sweet Smell of Success" are released. If you haven't been impressed by his photos in the newspapers, you will be by his acting. The guy literally bounces off the screen and sets a new style in movie types, just as Humphrey Bogart once did.

Producer-to-producer prattle at Chasen's: "Get him — he's still coasting along on his past failures."

It took a lot of mulling but once Van Johnson made up his mind to jump into TV, he made a flying leap. Van, who has formed his own production company Evan Productions, will host and star in a television series next season to be titled "Van Johnson's Amazing Stories." Evie, his wife, will be associate producer, "Evan" being a combination of Evie and Van. All this in addition to Van's August stint for NBC-TV as the star of that network's 90-minute spectacular "The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

EVE ARDEN bucked up her morale for the new teleseries, "It Gives Me Great Pleasure," by switching from blonde to red-head... Raymond Burr, trimming down for his new Perry Mason teleseries, swears he'll stick to that diet like glue till he weighs in at 175 pounds. He's 210 now. Easy does it, boy.

Frank Sinatra tells me he's doodling the idea of a fancy big premiere from Hollywood's Huntington Hartford Theatre to tee off his fancy big ABC-TV series in the fall... Can't figure why it is that Johnny Carson's humor dies on the telebeam when it's so alive and sparkly everywhere else.

THE LAS VEGAS bistros, are hot after Tommy Sands, but Tommy, now 19, says nothing doing until he's 21... MGM-TV and Kaiser Aluminum are talking a $1,000,000, five-year deal for the studio to shoot commercials for the manufacturer... The way Bob Hope keeps buying up those TV stations around the country (WREX-TV in Rockford, Ill., is the latest) you'd think he was miffed at his own network, NBC which he ain't!

NEW YORK (UP) — The great American pastime passed into limbo today, crushed by a cumbersome and annihilated by an ascot.

From now on, gentlemen, Emily Post is destined to become more important in the hits-and-errors industry than the immortal ghost of General Abernethy. Because the days when you went to the ball game in your shirt sleeves are deader than the Washington Senators.

They are, at least, if you plan to go to Yankee Stadium.

DANIEL REED Topping, social and scientific leader of the Bronx 490, made this clear with an edict aimed at the carriage trade which frequents his plush, air-conditioned saloon known as the Stadium Club. Henceforth, jackets will be de rigeur and those without them, fittingly, will be given the bum's rush.

D. T., the tin plate heir with the silver spoon, even refused to consider sportswriters as a hard-shoe case. So they only have one summer sports jacket. On days when it's in the cleaners they will not even use the corridors in the vicinity of the club.

THERE IS A suspicion here that Topping, who hereafter must rank as the Sherman Billingsley of the Bronx, has hidden reasons in addition to making a salon out of a saloon.

For years, the rest of the American League has been screaming "Break up the Yankees." It being the only major league team with a major league farm club, this is a difficult assignment. So Dan! possibly has decided to take matters into his own hands on the social level.

This, of course, jeopardizes most of the members of the ball club and they immediately become trade bait.

Anahuac Rates Favorite Over Ike Chestnut

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Kid Anahuac, curly-haired title hopeful from Mexico City, goes after the biggest win of his career tonight when he battles classy featherweight Ike Chestnut, New York, in a 10-round non-televised fight for Lives Show at Olympic Auditorium.

Although Anahuac is ranked only No. 10 and Chestnut No. 5 among featherweight contenders, the Kid has been tabbed the 10-7 favorite to defeat the New Yorker.

Anahuac was installed the favorite because of his showing in two local bouts this year. He whipped Jose Luis Coto in January and in March decisively Billy Sweetpea Peacock.

The main share of proceeds from tonight's bout will go to the City of Hope Medical Center.

UC President To Recommend No Withdrawal

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of University of California, will recommend that UC and University of California at Los Angeles remain in the Pacific Coast Conference, the San Francisco Examiner reported today.

The paper said Sproul will make this recommendation Friday to the UC board of regents, which is meeting to consider the matter. Sproul's recommendation was said to be the result of a meeting reached at Berkeley Monday by top officials of both schools.

Meanwhile, the regents' Policy and Education Committee was to meet today to consider a resolution by regent Cyril Nigg of Los Angeles urging UCLA to withdraw from the conference. Regent Edward W. Carter of Los Angeles is chairman of the committee.

It was presumed that Sproul, an ex-officio member of the committee, would officially inform it of the Monday agreement.

The committee, and the regents themselves, can still take other action, but this was said to be unlikely.

New Recreation Facilities Set For Indian Wells

A recreational area which will rate among the finest in the Coachella Valley, will be ready for visitors and residents of the desert area by Nov. 1, it was learned today.

The Indian Wells Country Club and Desi Arnaz Western Hills Hotel announced today that they would combine their recreation facilities both present and future to attract visitors to the area.

Milton Hicks, president of Indian Wells, said that the club would offer boating, fishing and tennis added to the present facilities of horse back riding, golf, (there will be 18 holes by November), swimming, and dining and dancing. The addition of the full 18 holes is expected to be completed by August or September, and an artificial lake will be completed by the same time.

A series of waterfalls will be put in near the lake, according to Eddie Susella, manager-pro of the golf club.

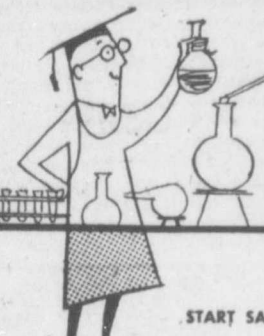

Construction on the club house and on the additional greens, is now underway.

Hoak 'Hoaxes' Dodgers After They Gave Him Every Chance, Beats Them 4th Time

By MILTON RICHMAN

The Brooklyn Dodgers can't figure out how Hoak beat them last night. They gave him his first chance in the big leagues, cut him in for a full World Series share in 1955 when he was with them and did everything they could to make him happy. And now, look at the thanks they're getting.

He blasted a two-run homer Wednesday night that beat the Dodgers, 4-3, and snapped a four-game Cincinnati losing streak.

ONLY 11 DAYS ago, Hoak belted a two-run homer off Don Drysdale to defeat the Dodgers, 3-1, in the opener of a double-header and then he clouted another home run off Ed Roebuck to help the Redlegs take the nightcap, 3-0.

On May 8 he came up with a three-run circuit blow off Don Newcomb to give Cincinnati a 7-6 triumph.

The Dodgers are hoping he gets lost somewhere.

HOAK'S HOMER Wednesday night came in the seventh inning on the heels of a pinch two-run homer by Bob Thurman. That four-run rally spelled the seventh victory of the season for Tom Acker. Clem Labine was the loser.

The St. Louis Cardinals climbed to within a half-game of the pace-setting Braves by sweeping a two-night double-header from Pittsburgh, 5-2 and 5-1, while Milwaukee blanked the Giants, 6-0, and the Cubs beat the Phillies twice, 9-0 and 4-3.

IN THE AMERICAN League, the White Sox stayed 2½ games in front with a 3-1 decision over the Orioles; the Yankees crushed the Tigers, 10-2; Kansas City clipped Washington, 6-3, and Boston beat Cleveland, 6-0.

Sam Jones and Lindy McDaniel registered the Cardinals' pair of victories over the Pirates. Jones struck out 10 and pitched a seven-hitter in the opener which was decided in the seventh inning when Joe Cunningham's pinch two-run homer highlighted a three-run rally that snapped a 2-2 tie. The Cards got to Bob Purkey for three runs in the first inning of the nightcap and Stan Musial contributed his 15th homer.

Wes Covington, recently recalled from Wichita, slammed a three-run homer and Hank Aaron hit his 19th with the bags empty as Bob Buhl of the Braves handcuffed the Giants on four hits: Ruben Gomez was the loser.

ROOKIE DICK Drott of the Cubs held the Phils to three hits in the opener to notch his sixth victory with the aid of homers by Ernie Banks and Chuck Tanner. Walt Moryn smashed two homers in the nightcap, driving in three of the Cubs' four runs. Moe Drabowsky was the winner with help from Turk Lown.

The Athletics came up with three runs in the ninth off Russ Kemmerer for their victory over Washington.

Joe Brown Rarin' to Go After TKO

DENVER, Colo. (UP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, radiating confidence after Wednesday night's marathan technical knockout of Cuban challenger Orlando Zulueta, said today he would fight highly-regarded Kenny Lane within 90 days if the National Boxing Association wanted him to.

Brown, starting slowly, rallied powerfully in the final three rounds at Denver Coliseum to smash Zulueta helpless with 21 seconds remaining in the 15th round.

LOU VISCUSI, Brown's manager, said the champ would take about a month's rest and then fight some overweight matches. He said he had offers to take Brown to Milwaukee and Houston. Viscusi said Brown would meet Lane within 90 days and abide by any other requests from the National Boxing Association.

The 26-year-old Zulueta made a good, smart fight of it until the 11th and was ahead on judge Joe Ulmer's card, to the delight of the small crowd of 5,000 who sensed an upset.

BUT IN THE 13TH round the champion's punches picked up power. He floored Zulueta for a nine count with a left he brought up from below his knees.

Brown knocked Zulueta to the floor again with a right for a count of eight in the 15th. Referee Ray Keech called the bout at 2:39, with much booing from the crowd.

CIRCLES OF COMMUNICATION

Every year, every month, every week, the circles of communication widen. Everywhere new telephones are being installed at a rapid rate, broadening conversation possibilities and thereby increasing the value of the telephone.

In the last ten years California Water & Telephone Company has increased the number of telephones in service by 420 per cent. To achieve this gain $42,000,000 was spent for equipment, construction and installation, increasing the plant investment by 1135 per cent.

And the demand for telephones continues to grow. To keep up with it, to bring telephones to more and more people, an additional $12,200,000 will be spent in 1957 to improve and expand facilities.

Eight Fire Calls Reported Here During Month

Fire Chief Bill Leonzio today released a report on the local department for the month of May, which showed that local engines handled eight fire calls during the month, compared to a total of nine for a year ago.

According to the report, total value lost during May fires was $5,650, plus $25 in trailer fire losses, compared to a total of $3,600 a year ago.

Fire permits issued last month totaled 237, during the same period of the fire burning permit schedule for 1957.

Resuscitator calls were up from two to five during the same period, as well as business license inspections from 67 to 72.

The report shows that there were two hotel and apartment fires with $1,150 loss, and mercantile business fire loss of $4,500.

According to Leonzio, the causes for fires during the month of May were broken down as follows: Two caused by electrical wiring, three by careless cigarette smokers, and one each due to gas and oil in vehicles, gas heaters and vents, and food on

Friday-Niters Plan 'Sports Night' Friday

The Junior High Friday-Niters will hold a 'Sports Night' Friday night, the second in the summer series of Youth Center dances for junior high school youth. It will begin at 7:30 and close at 10 p. m.

The new Sixth grade graduates going into junior high next year are eligible, as are the junior high graduates going into high school. Any kind of a sports outfit other than bathing suit is suitable dress for the affair. Prizes will be given for the best sports costume. Four teams will be chosen for the evening: The Blues, captained by Sid Sanders, with cheerleader Jane Hicks; The Reds, captained by Ronnie Weinstein, with cheerleader Linda Lake; The Yellow, captained by Mike Francisco, with cheerleader Mary Halligan; and The Greens, captained by Dick Canby, with cheerleader Doris Sing.

The contests will be in ping pong, pool and basketball throw, with prizes going to the winning teams. The prizes will be sports items. Promptly at 9 p. m. there will begin an hour of dancing with refreshments served and dancing contests held. Records will be used for music with members bringing their favorites. The decorations will carry out the sports theme. The Friday-Niters urge all Junior High and sixth grade graduates to join in the fun. Admission at these weekly Friday affairs is 10 cents, which includes refreshments, dancing, prizes and sports.

Abandoned Ship Continues To Burn as Memorial to Dead

BREST, France (AP)—The abandoned hulk of the tanker Stony Point burned fiercely off this "Land's End" port today, a blazing memorial to 12 seamen killed when it collided early Wednesday with the freighter Ioannis.

The Ioannis, a 9,345-ton Greek motor-freighter, limped into Brest under its own power late Wednesday night. Harbor firemen helped to quench the fire still blazing aboard.

RESCUE 'VESSELS'—from five nations picked up 64 survivors, including chief engineer J. Taylor and chief mechanic James Triff, both of the Stony Point. Taylor and Triff were the only Americans involved in the wreck. The 41-man crew of the 10,500-ton tanker—a U. S.-built, Greek-owned, Italian-manned vessel of Liberian registry—abandoned ship a few minutes after the crash.

Verlin Sanfreed Returns From 3 Weeks Cruise

CATHEDRAL CITY — Verlin Sanfreed returned last week from an interesting three weeks vacation. With her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Harold, of Arcadia she flew from Los Angeles to New York where she visited with Laurie Remers, who was formerly secretary at Thunderbird.

They boarded the Matsonia for her maiden voyage to the Caribbean Islands, with the first stop at Nassau. They were unable to go ashore at Port au Prince because of the revolution.

The next port of call was Jamaica, British West Indies, then to Costa Gena in Columbia, South America; from there through the Panama Canal stopping at Panama City, with Acapulco the last stop before docking at Port of Los Angeles, where a royal welcome awaited the luxurious liner. Miss Sanfreed will fly to Catalina over the weekends throughout the summer to take care of her office on the resort island.

Cathedral City

By JEAN PATANE

Margaret Davidson and her mother, Mrs. Corinne Davidson, left Saturday morning on a motor trip to the East Coast via the southern route. They plan on visiting Jamestown, West Point, New York City and on to Plymouth, Mass., to see the second Mayflower. Margaret took along her paints and brushes and will most likely return with the highlights of her vacation permanently on canvas.

Mary Hoover, well known pianist, left last week for Twin Falls, Idaho, to spend the summer with her parents.

Marie and Robby Robertson recently returned from an extended trip throughout the south to New York.

Having been transferred from the staff of the government hospital in McKinney, Texas, to the Veterans Hospital in Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Burke stopped en route to visit with Mrs. Burke's mother, Mrs. E. B. Neely, owner of the "Round-Up Fruit Stand."

Mrs. Neely closed her stand for the summer and left to visit with a sister in Grand Junction, Colo., before driving to Canada to visit with her brother in Winnipeg, and another sister living in Stoughton, Saskatchewan. Mrs. Neely plans on returning in the fall to reopen the "Round-Up Fruit Stand" for the eleventh year.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Paulsen are visiting in Alhambra for two weeks. The Paulsens made their home in Alhambra prior to moving to the desert.

Returning Saturday from a week in Los Angeles were Mrs. Trenton Dunphy and children, Sandy, Jimmie and Ronnie. While there Sandy visited two days with her former classmates at Newton School in Palos Verdes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Booth, Jr., who have been enjoying weekends at their new home on Inyoquios, plan to make the desert their permanent home about July 1. Mr. Booth is a manufacturer in Los Angeles.
